509,909 TOTAL NEEDED IN ARMY

Gen. March Gives Peace Strength Figure Over Million Discharged.

An army of 509,909 men will be retained to meet all the problems that confront the United States, it was announced yesterday by Gen. March, Chieff of Staff. The War Department is taking this action notwithstanding the failure of Congress to legislate on the supplest of a standing legislate on the subject of a standing army. The department, therefore, is proceeding under its general powers, as peace has not yet been proclaimed and the war emergency still exists. Gen. March has instructed Gen. Pershing to resume enlistment for he regular army in France, those enlisted to release emergency men who must be returned to the United States. The total legal war strength of the regular establishment is 250,-000, but under the circumstances, the department holds it can keep in the service 509,909 men whether composed of regulars or not. Gen. March announced the total battle casualties of the A. E. F. as 240,000 and also gave the losses by The Second division was first, with 24,429; First, 23,947; Third, 16,356; Twenty-eighth, 14,417; Thirty-second, 12,948; Forty-second (Bainbow), 12,256; Fourth, 12,948; Twenty-seventh, 7,340; Twenty-sixth, 8,955, and other divisions in decreasing num-bers down to the Eighty-eighth with a loss of only sixty-three. The com-bined strength of all divisions in actual conflict was 1,390,000.

Of course everybody has a different reason for doing that, but none of them ever sound like sense.

Only 334 Suicides.

The story that there was an unusual number of suicides in the army charge and service record. was disposed of by Gen. March, who was disposed of by Gen. March, who gave the total up to February 21 as 234. "This percentage," said Gen. Instead of keeping the 590 to pay his march, "is lower than the ordinary income tax for 1913, he literally threw shown by the census reorts for the years 1914, 1915 and 1916.
